

MilliporeSigma Punchouts Consolidation on UVA Marketplace

Why the MilliporeSigma Punchouts Consolidation?

MilliporeSigma History:

- Sigma and Aldrich were founded separately in 1935 and 1951, respectively. They were merged in 1975, forming Sigma-Aldrich.
- In 2010, Merck acquired Millipore Corporation (founded in 1954) to form EMD Millipore.
- In 2015, Merck acquired Sigma-Aldrich and merged it with EMD Millipore to form MilliporeSigma.

What's happening:

MilliporeSigma is consolidating its B2B punchouts from the legacy Sigma-Aldrich and EMD Millipore websites. The emdmillipore.com website will be sunset by the end of this year.

What Do We Do?

Before 10/31/24

After 10/31/24

What Does It Means for UVA End Users:

No more EMD Millipore Punchout:

- Order from Workday through the regular non-catalog process.
- Only a small selection of products will continue to be available from EMD Millipore, including but not limited to Milli-Q systems, custom Milliplex/IPS, or Lab Water items with service.

MilliporeSigma Punchout stays:

- Updated with a new logo design.
